NOT THE FIRST LONG DEADLOCK

There Have Been Money Spectacular Senatorial Elections.

VOTES TAKEN TWICE.

Longest Deadlock Was When W. J. Deboe Secured Sleeping Room in The Senate.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 20.—The present deadlock in the Legislature calls several memorable senatorial contests at Frankfort, which stirred the State and were fought out with much bitterness.

In 1874 James B. Beck was elected to the Senate by the Democrats after a spirited struggle. The Legislature was so overwhelmingly Democratic in those days that the necessity of a caucus was not so necessary as at present. It was the custom for the members to put up their individual choices, and after a time drop the hindmost candidates or their names would be withdrawn. The race finally narrowed down between Senator Beck and Judge Wadsworth, Republican, of Maysville.

SPECTACULAR CONTEST.

One of the most spectacular contests for the United States Senatorship in Kentucky was the race between Jo. C. S. Blackburn and Carro Gordo Williams, of Mt. Sterling, during the memorable session of 1883-4. The Democratic caucus was deadlocked for nearly a month, and before a nomination was made the Democrats in joint session voted for a score or more of candidates. W. M. Sweeney, the third candidate in the caucus, who caused the tie-up afterward withdrew from the race, which left the fight for the nomination between Blackburn and Williams. Blackburn won the nomination, the result depending on the change of one vote.

BLACKBURN-HUNTER RACE.

The prolonged deadlock in the Blackburn-Hunter race, which lasted throughout the whole legislative session of 1896, attracted attention all over the United States. Blackburn was the nominee of the Democratic caucus, while Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter was put up by the Republicans. A unique feature of the contest was that there were Democrats who refused to vote for Blackburn, and Republican who withheld support from Hunter. Dr. Hunter was within one vote of election on several occasions, but could never land the prize. In 1897 Gov. Bradley called a special session of the Legislature, and the deadlock between Blackburn and Hunter was resumed and continued until Dr. Hunter was forced to withdraw. The Republicans then rallied to the support of Dr. W. J. Deboe, a member of the State Senate, and he was sent to the Federal Senate, where he served a term of six years.

SENATORS ELECTED TWICE.

Owing to the ambiguity in the present law governing the time of balloting for a United States Senator, the last four Senators elected in Kentucky have been twice elected—that is, on the Tuesday following the organization of the Legislature and then again upon the following Tuesday. This procedure was followed in the cases of William Lindsay, J. C. S. Blackburn, James B. McCreary and T. H. Paynter. The Federal and State statutes provide that on the second Tuesday after the meeting of the Legislature it shall proceed to take a vote for United States Senator. The last Legislature undertook to remedy the matter by an amendment, inserting a parenthetical clause providing that the Tuesday on which the Legislature met and organized should not be counted as the first Tuesday, but the Federal statutes not having been changed leaves the matter still in doubt.

FISCAL COURT MET SATURDAY

Allowed a Number of Claims Presented By Various Parties.

$500 CHARITY FUND.

Contract Let For Piking Five Miles On Madisonville Road.

The Fiscal Court met in called session last Saturday. All of the eight magistrates were present.

A large lot of bills from various persons were presented and ordered to be paid out of the general fund.

One of the items of general interest before the body was the letting of a contract for building five miles of pike on the Madisonville road. E. C. Outlaw secured the contract at $2,050 per mile. It was left to the discretion of the committee as to whether the full five miles should be built or less. The work of grading will begin as soon as favorable weather opens in the spring and by the end of summer the pike will be completed. During this year the work of piking and substantially repairing the different roads of the county will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

As the amount of funds in the hands of the county poor commissioner, J. G. Hord, had been exhausted and constant demands had been made upon him for assistance, the court made an allowance of $500 to be used by him in his discretion during the winter.

The body adjourned to meet again on Tuesday, February 18th.

During the day Judge Prowse was taken ill and had to go home. Esq. W. L. Parker was chosen to preside in the place "filled the bill to at."

DELIGHTFUL EVENING.

Shower Party at Christian Church Last Night.

The ladies of the Christian church entertained last night. The new Sunday school room was opened to members of the congregation and the large number of persons enjoyed the evening to the fullest. It was called a "Shower Party," and was given to supply the dining room and kitchen with articles that are necessary, such as china ware, plated ware of all kinds for the tables and articles needed for the kitchen.

It is needless to say that the call of the leading ladies of the church was most liberally responded to, for which the ladies are most grateful. After spending quite a time in conversation and admiring the arrangement of the different rooms and the handsome furniture refreshments were served. The ladies in charge were in their element and made the evening a most delightful one to everybody.

PIKE-WARNER.

Bride Under Age But Father Gave Consent.

Thomas Pike and Miss Apa? Warner, young people living near Fruit Hill, were married at the home of the bride's parents Sunday. The bride is only about fifteen years old, but the father came to the city with Mr. Pike and gave his consent for the issuance of the license.

Death at Asylum.

James Henderson died at the asylum Saturday night, aged about 80 years. The remains were shipped to Gilbertsville Sunday.

SETH L. HORD FOUND FROZEN TO DEATH

Unfortunate Man Lost Both Hands in a Saw Mill.

WAS 65 YEARS OLD.

Two Daughters and One Son Deaf and Dumb.

The saddest death that has been reported in the city or county for years was that of Seth Littleton Hord, which was discovered last Saturday morning between 7 and 8 o'clock by his son, Seth, and others who had been looking for Hord all the day before. When found he was lying cold in death in a field north of the pumping station, about a mile and a half from the city.

"Lit" Hord, as he was generally called, walked into town Thursday and stayed pretty much all day and was seen by Julian Hord late in the afternoon. When night came on and he didn't appear at home, about 3 1/2 miles from the city, his family grew a little apprehensive as to his safety, as he often indulged quite freely in drink when he came to town.

Nothing being learned of his whereabouts Friday morning the family, including his son Seth and his two boys, began making further inquiry, and being unable to learn anything of what became of him late Thursday evening, when seen by Mr. Hord, began scouring the country lying between the home of the dead man and the city, the search continuing throughout the day.

Saturday morning the search was renewed and the body was found at the place indicated above. The feelings of his son and two grandchildren can be better imagined than described when they found that the poor man had started home Thursday about dark, or after dark, and had fallen on the way and frozen to death.

As soon as the body was found the coroner was summoned and an inquest was held, the verdict of the jury being in accordance with the above.

Mr. Hord was well known in the city and attracted the particular attention of children as he was known by them as "the man without hands." Something like fifteen years ago he lost both hands just above the wrist bone at a saw mill.

The wonder at the time was that his body was not sawed in twain when he fell in front of the circular saw. After many long months of helplessness emerged from his home to again mingle with his friends, all of whom had the deepest sympathy for him. Soon he got so that he could drive his gentle team of two horses by wrapping the lines around each of his arm stubs and he seemed to enjoy life as much as any one.

Probably no man in the county was more entitled to the sympathy of the public than the deceased. Unfortunately as he was, with the help of his devoted and self-sacrificing wife, he reared a family of seven children, now all grown and some of them married. In addition to the work of raising and providing for seven children as they grew up, three of their offspring were born deaf mutes—two of the daughters and one son, which made the lot of Mr. and Mrs. Hord much harder than most people. But a mother's love and patience and a father's faithfulness won their greatest battle of life. The three afflicted children were educated at the Deaf and Dumb Institute and returned afterwards to the old home to do their parts in and cheerfully. One of the daughters married some time since and the youngest member of the family, a boy, is now about 16 years of age. The deceased, besides his seven children, is survived by his wife. The remains were laid to rest in the Jenkins burying ground, a large number of friends and neighbors witnessing the last sad rites of the peculiarly unfortunate man. "Requiescat in pace."

PEACE ARMY INDICTED

Hart County Grand Jury Follows Governor's Suggestion,

FORTY-ONE TEST CASES

Day Riders Who Waited Upon Buyers Charged With Breach of Peace

Munfordville, Ky., Jan. 20.—The report that members of the army of peace that visited Horse Cave last December had been indicted was confirmed Saturday by the announcement of the names of forty-one farmers are accused of binding themselves together for the purpose of intimidating buyers of loose tobacco. Circuit Court is now in session and the men under indictment will come to this city to-day and appear in court to demand trial.

The indictments charge specifically that the defendants are guilty of "combining themselves together for the purpose of intimidating and disturbing F. R. Gordon, Walter Moss, Dan Van Cleave, S. C. Pemberton and other persons then engaged in the business of purchasing loose tobacco and demanding that Gordon should not receive any more tobacco than was already contracted for."

TO BE RESISTED

Railroads of Tennessee Will Fight Raise In Court.

Officers and men high up in the traffic departments of the railroads of Tennessee have indicated in no uncertain terms that the recent order issued by the State Railroad Commission for a reduction in passenger fare to 25 cents would be contested in the courts. Politics is said to be responsible for the whole agitation and the proposed handicapping of the roads in their revenues, it is said, will seriously affect any future railroad development in this section.

FASHION'S FOIBLES.

Vulture and carousal plumes, with sweeping Amazons or pleuraeas in curlic falling below the shoulder, promise to be much worn.

Dainty little handkerchiefs to match the tailored costumes were now being carried by the French women. There are now arrangements of checks and stripes, and the delicate shades make the handkerchiefs quite expensive. Where there is a colored border the initial is on a solid ground of white.

A charming evening frock of creamy chiffon had large woven satin dots and a deep border of great pink and yellow roses in pale shades. This was worn over a shell pink tulle taffeta slip, which was veiled by the same shade of chiffon.

The dyed laces will be greatly used.

A gown of silk for an afternoon costume is always in good style for the elderly woman. Full bouillonné moire and the soft taffetas are among the best to choose from.

The embroidery laces are interesting worked in colors to match the ground and combination of several colors.

The Oriental and Persian effects are sought.

The soutache lace resembles some tache braiding applied to net ground, yet in many ways it is much more attractive.

Pilet laces are shown in widely diversified effects. There is flit in colors, with gold and aluminum grounds, and flit antique, and so on indefinitely.

These materials may be secured at a reasonable price, and are all rain-proof. There is a new process employed in making them rainproof which has proved most satisfactory.

The rage for shantung and tussor shows no sign of abating, and these fabrics are being dyed in the most wonderful shades of raspberry, Copenhagen blue, myrtle green and old gold. They are equally fashionable in their natural colors.

HER HEELS.

A Trustworthy Indicator to a Girl's Character.

"If you want to know whether a girl is slovenly or not, look at her heels," said the wise woman to the young man who was contemplating matrimony. "Her gown may be pretty, her hat becoming, her neckwear trim and neat and her gloves well-matched, but if her heels are run over, look out for her. Her trimness in other respects denotes that she is neat and unapologetically, that she will make an effort to keep things tidy and in order only when she is urged to do so because she has some special provocation. But by nature she is slack. The man who marries a girl with perpetually run-over heels will find her coming to the breakfast table as soon as the honey-moon is over in a tumbled kimono and with her hair in curl papers. She never will be a good housekeeper."

On the other hand, I've seen girls who maybe did not have such a trim appearance, whose hair was apt to be a little flying, but whose heels rested firmly on the ground, and never did I discover they were in the slovenly class. Maybe their heels were not careful enough of outward appearance, but they kept their buttons sewed on, rips repaired, spots sponged off and their rooms in immaculate order."

Gowns for Invalids.

Soft wool nightgowns are made of soft, white flannel bound and trimmed with pink or blue satin ribbons. They are practical Christmas gifts to give to invalids and are easy to make. One model is made in one piece. The sleeves are made on the kimono lines and are large. The goods should be wide. Fold first on the width and then on the length. The shoulders should come on one folded edge and the front and back on the other. From the corner between the two folded sides the neck is cut. Diagonal from this, an irregular "V" is cut, which leaves edges for the sleeves and underarm. The front is opened and the neck, sleeves, front, and the bottom are bound in the ribbon. The ribbon is also used to fasten it at the neck.

Candle Grease.

Candle grease yields to a warm iron. Place a piece of blotting paper under the fabric and a piece on top. Apply the warm iron to the paper and as soon as the spot of grease appears move the paper and press again until the spot disappears.

Lard will remove wax grease. Rub the spot with the lard as if washing it, and when it is well out, wash in the ordinary way with soap and water until thoroughly cleaned.

Plaque Bureau Covers.

Pretty bureau covers may be made of white muslin cut in sections along the edges and buttoned with mercerized cottons. The sections may be made by placing a thumb along the edge and marking with a pencil the outline of the thumb. These covers may be cut to fit any bureau and are especially good for those having rounded edges.

The Poor Fool.

She—What! Miss Plinkie going to be married? What! That poor what I've always said; no matter how ugly or ill-mannered a girl is, she can always find some fool to marry her. Who is the poor man?

FIGHT AGAINST CORRUPTION.

Prosecution of Corruptive Combines Afford a Lesson to Home Traders.

Never before has there been such a stirring up of the masses and an awakening as to rotteness in financial affairs among the large corporations as at present. Some one at one time said that "when thieves fall out the devil gets his reward." So it seems at present when factious is arrayed against factious in exposing crooked operations in great financial and business deals, in which the little fish are swallowed by the big ones, and the men in control, like wolves, lead the lambs to slaughter.

It is amazing how far-spread are the frauds practiced, and how high up in public estimation are the manipulations of the cotton deals. The stealings of the millionaires and multi-millionaires, the intrigues and their perjurious lying and misrepresentations to accomplish their aims; the intricacy of the machinery used in their operations, the perfection of the means, the combinations employed to fleece the people of dollars, would do credit to a capitalist or a Machiavelli, or a Capt. Kidd.

There cannot be doubt that these various articles appearing in the magazines and general newspapers will have the result of opening the eyes of the public to things that heretofore ever gave serious consideration. They will have the effect of making the people more cautious in making investments of their earnings, and will result in lessons that are beneficial to the country at large. Home traders principally preclude the possibility of people losing by the operations of such gigantic schemers. Money invested in your own community in the development of its latent resources will give excellent returns, is ever under your own observation, and while the percentage of profit from some home investments may not be up to the representations made by the manipulators of stocks and the shears of lambs in general, you are not so likely to be a loser.

MARKET DAYS IN TOWNS.

Successful Plans to Entertain Visitors and Attract Trade.

How to attract trade to towns is a question that interests every business man. There must be some attraction for people of the surrounding country; some entertainment to please. Many means have been put in operation by different towns to bring about the objects desired. The people of the small towns in different western states have inaugurated street carnivals, fall festivals and similar enterprises to attract people from the surrounding farming sections. These methods have been universally successful, and have resulted in bringing trade to the towns that otherwise we would have gone elsewhere. Not alone this, but the residents of the rural districts are brought in contact with the city people on a friendly basis and harmonious relations are established that are highly desirable.

In many towns market days have been established. From early spring late in fall the day in the month is set aside for "market day." For this occasion bands of music are engaged, balloon ascensions, baseball games, races and similar attractions are employed to interest the people. All these are free, the expense being borne by the business interests of the town. The farmers are invited to bring to the town their horses, cattle, hogs, in fact, every product that they have for sale, and the same is auctioned off to the best advantage. On these market days all kinds of articles can be had at bargain prices. Each storekeeper makes special efforts to offer bargains, and generally the sales are enormous. A few enterprising small towns that have adopted the market-day idea have become noted for many miles about as lively trade centers and take trade away from territory in the neighborhood of less enterprising towns. The market-day idea is worthy of consideration by business men in small towns who desire to pursue an inexpensive method of attracting trade to the place.

Duty of Good Citizens.

Home and its protection is the safeguard of all government. That citizen who has the love of home and fealty to home interests, is a worthy representative of a commonwealth. It is the mass of such men that are the backbone of any community, and figuratively, the mainstay and the rock upon which the nations are founded. Whoever lives in a community and fails to support the public institutions and does not assist in the building up of industries that add to the greatness of that community, is like an alien. While he lives one place, his heart is in another. He is not the ideal citizen, for he is not in harmony with those who are his neighbors. It is the duty of every resident of a town or community to do his utmost to advance its interest. By thus doing he not alone assists himself, but his neighbors, his town, his county, his state and his nation.

Time to Awaken.

Any plan devised that tends toward greater business centralization makes sense. The building up of harmonious combinations. During the past ten years billions of dollars have been sent to the large cities by the resident of rural communities, and these billions have been used in building up trusts that work against the best interests of the masses who reside in agricultural sections. It is not time to awaken to the dangers of sending money away from the home town!

He Didn't Care.
A boy was slouching along the street with his father's breakfast in a tin can, when another boy came up to him and gave the can a vigorous kick.
"Do you care about me kicking that can?" said the newcomer.
"No, I don't," replied the other boy.
"Do you now?" giving the can another kick.
"No, I don't," answered the latter.
"Do you now?" cried the infuriated young lad, giving the can such a kick that it knocked the bottom out.
"No, I don't," again replied he with the can. "My mother borrowed it from yours this morning!"

Was a Chestnut.
They sat at the edge of the wood, gazing dreamily at the reapers toiling in the sunny fields, at the scarlet poppies that glowed among the golden grain, and at each other.
"Darling," he cried, "I swear by this great tree whose spreading branches shade us from the heat by this noble tree I swear that I have never loved before."
The girl smiled faintly.
"You always say such appropriate things, Dick," she murmured. "This is a chestnut tree."

Evidence to the Contrary.
Mrs. Haymon (home from church)—Half-past one! Goodness gracious! I thought that new minister would never finish his sermon. He stammered an "stuttered" an "coughed" an "sneezed" an "hmed" an "haved" an "repeated himself till I thought I'd have a convulsion fit."
Mr. Haymon (who is somewhat unorthodox)—An' yet they say them folks practice what they preach!—Puck.

Good Offices.
Woman was called between the devil and the deep sea, so to say.
On the one hand, she strongly desired to look round at somebody she had passed, while on the other, conversation forbade her. Just here evolution stepped in, with its good offices.
"I will give you eyes in the back of your head," said evolution. Was not that a happy outcome!—Puck.

Ever Hear It?
Mrs. Bacon—The Burnese have a curious idea regarding coins. They prefer those which have female heads on them, believing the coins with male heads are not as so lucky.
Mr. Bacon—It is perfectly natural to suppose that money with a female head on it is the money which talks.—Yonkers Statesman.

Family Recipes.
Mrs. Hayseed (reading from the medical almanac)—Portland cement and skimmed milk make an excellent paint.
Mr. Hayseed (in the dairy business)—Paint? Git out, it makes cream.—N. Y. Weekly.

Big Trade in Peanuts.
Over 50,000 tons of peanuts are brought to Bordeaux annually from Africa, and the value of the oil made from them is $2,000,000. Many French families prepare for table use of olive oil, and it is much cheaper, too, the price being 55 to 82 cents a gallon, according to quality.

Ardent Toy Collector.
Mrs. Bacon, the actress, is an ardent collector of tiny toys and miniature models of all sorts. Her collection is now very large as well as delectably interesting, and she invariably adds to it while on her professional tours.

NEGROES TO LEAVE.

"Rough Riders" Send Communication to Paper.

Madisonville, Ky., Jan. 18.—J. E. Russell, editor of the Dawson Springs Oracle, has been receiving notices signed "Rough Riders," with the request that they be published, regarding negroes in that thriving little Hopkins county town. This week he received the following communication:

"Publish this in your paper. For all the negroes in Dawson to get out in ten days, or woe unto them and for all that has got them employed to get rid of them, and all that has got them in their houses to get them out, or woe to their backs. This is the second warning.

HEALTH MATTERS.

Chief Topic of Discussion at Council Meeting.

The city council met in regular session Friday night but the business transacted was principally deferred matters.

The bonds of the chief of police and city assessor were presented and approved. The mayor also reported that he had approved the bonds of the seven police officers and the keeper of the workhouse.

Dr. R. L. Woodward's re-election as secretary of the Board of Health was reported and made a matter of record. Dr. Woodward submitted a verbal report of his recent attendance upon the meeting of the health officers in Louisville, in which 81 counties were represented. He made some recommendations that will receive the consideration of the council.

The workhouse committee was instructed to complete the plumbing in the workhouse and make all necessary repairs in the city buildings, and put them in good condition.

Application was made for a license to open a colored pool room in an up-stairs room on Sixth street. The matter was referred to the grievance committee to be looked into and reported on at the next meeting.

The Finance committee was granted further time to examine the annual reports of officers.

COUNTY PATROL

Adj. Gen. Johnston Suggests Practice in Counties Where Troops Are Needed.

Adjutant General Johnston yesterday morning dispatched Major E. B. Bassett back to Hopkinsville to take charge of the Hopkinsville militia men who will be on duty in that city again, having relieved the Louisville troops. Both the Governor and Gen. Johnston have great confidence in Major Bassett and wished to have him at the scene of tobacco trouble last month. Major Bassett has been engaged in work on the Board of Survey here for several weeks assisting in making a complete examination of the Adjutant General's department. His place on the board was filled by Major G. W. Albrecht, of Middlesboro, who will come here at once.

Adjutant General Johnston is calling the attention of the county officials in those counties where danger is feared because of the tobacco situation, to the State "Patrol Law," which has hitherto been unnoticed, but which he believes will have the effect of relieving the tenseness in many places where troops are desired, but where the department hardly sees the actual necessity for sending them. To the officials of such counties he is sending copies of the Patrol Law, which reads as follows:

Section 3790: County courts may, once in each year, divide their respective counties into as many districts as the public peace and good of society may require, and appoint in each district a company of patrols to consist of one captain and not exceeding three men, to continue in service twelve months, unless removed by the county court for neglect of duty or improper conduct. None but discreet and sober men shall be appointed patrols; and they shall take an oath before a justice of the peace faithfully, impartially and diligently to perform the duties of patrols. But the patrols shall have jurisdiction co-extensive with the whole county.—State Journal.

NO EQUITY MONEY

Petition Circulated in Washington County Asking Trust to Return.

Springfield, Ky., Jan. 20.—The directors of the Washington County Warehouse Company and the board of control for the county held a joint meeting here Saturday afternoon and have given out the statement that the two boards are unable to finance the deal for the 1907 crop. They announce that tobacco will be received at any time at the warehouse, but no money will be advanced to the farmers.

Quite a number of prominent farmers who have pooled their tobacco have prized and shipped to Louisville. The indications are that the pooled tobacco will be shipped to Louisville and Lebanon, where the American Tobacco Company has a warehouse and agent.

A petition has been circulated by the business men of Springfield inviting and requesting Mr. Moss, the agent of the American Tobacco Co., to come back to Springfield and buy the tobacco. Mr. Moss moved from here about two months ago. The citizens are satisfied that there will not be any trouble should Mr. Moss come to Springfield and buy the 1907 crop. At a mass meeting held out in the country today it was decided not to raise any tobacco during the year 1908.

No need to fear coughs and colds this year as you can obtain Bees Laxative Cough Syrup now from your dealer. This is good news to mothers who fear croup and whooping cough. It is a gentle laxative that expels the poison from the system in the natural way. Cuts the phlegm and clears the head. Guaranteed. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co.,

Some one has introduced a bill in the Legislature to make it unlawful for the American Tobacco Co. and the American Snuff Co. to do business in Kentucky. The American Tobacco Co. does not buy much of the "black patch" tobacco, but its branch, the American Snuff Co. is one of the best buyers the association has. Its relations are so friendly that the night riders made no hostile movement against its factory here Dec. 7. To pass this drastic measure would be a great benefit to the Clarksville and Cincinnati markets, without helping the farmers in the least.

ASSOCIATION IN NEW QUARTERS

S. G. Buckner, Local Salesman, Has Things Ready For Business.

500 TYPES ON HAND.

Purchasers Will be Waited On By Last of This Week.

For several weeks past carpenters, plumbers and painters have been busy re-modeling the three-story building on Eighth street, in the rear of Frank's. The result is that local salesman S. G. Buckner has probably the most convenient and commodious quarters within the boundaries of the Dark Tobacco Protective Association. Mr. Buckner has had many callers since the work has been completed and the consensus of opinion is that everything is just as it should be. Mr. Buckner is of the same opinion and nothing affords him more pleasure than to take his callers through the building and show them how perfectly adapted the building is for handling and keeping in order the samples that are sent here for sale.

In the salesroom there are twelve large air-proof bins, where samples are kept. These bins are built through the center of the large room, and when a buyer goes in to inspect samples, he and the salesman are entirely cut off from all other people who may be in the building at the time. There is nothing more annoying to a buyer (and the salesman, too), than to have somebody around giving his opinion of the different types of tobacco, what they ought to bring, etc.

Mr. Buckner is one of most experienced tobacco men in the State. He has raised, prized, sampled and sold it for years. He has been working for the Association since its organization. His new quarters were prepared after his own suggestions and they could hardly be improved. Now when a buyer wants to see the types on hand he need not fear somebody's "butting in." He can take his own time and make his selections at his leisure. The salesroom is perfectly lighted by numerous windows on both the North and South sides of the room.

The office is cozy and convenient. It had been ceiled with pine and varnished. The light is all that could be desired and there is plenty of room for all who may have business with the salesman of the Association. A lavatory and toilet room, elevator leading to the second story, and many other conveniences combine to make the new quarters of the Association everything to be desired.

Mr. Buckner now has on hand 500 samples of the different types of tobacco and is now prepared to wait on buyers. Probably he will make his first sales Friday. The Association has four warehouses in this city where the product of the planters will be delivered. It will be prized and sampled. The samples will be sent to Guthrie, where they will be graded and afterward returned to Mr. Buckner, who makes the sale for the crop.

It will be good news to the members of the association in this section to know that Mr. Dennis F. Smithson is to remain with Mr. Buckner this year in the same capacity that he has served the farmers since they first began selling their crops in their own way. He is to do all the clerical work, and being one of the best judges of the weed, will be highly efficient in more ways than one.

PEMBROKE MAN

Loses Diamonds and Other Valuables in Nashville.

One of the most important cases registered on the blotter at the police station in some time was made on Saturday night by detectives Irwin and Norton, when the loss of diamonds valued at about $300, the property of W. L. Lander, a prominent man of Pembroke, Ky., was cleared up, says the Nashville American.

A pawnbroker and three other men were taken into custody by the detectives and the diamonds will be restored to their owner.

Some days ago the detectives noticed that an unmounted diamond had been pawned and thought that there was something wrong. Investigation of all the complaints made showed that there was nothing to throw any light on the case. On Saturday Mr. Lander entered Lieut. Sidebottom's office and related that while in Nashville Dec. 12 he had been relieved of three diamonds, his watch and $30.

PNEUMONIA

Causes Death of Young Bennetstown Farmer.

Bennetstown, Ky., Jan. 18.—Marcus Southall, oldest son of John Southall, died yesterday morning near this place, after a brief illness of pneumonia, aged 21 years. The deceased was very popular and his death is a great shock to his many friends. The interment took place in the family burying ground to-day.

"I trust this may be read by many sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles," writes Mrs. Joe King, of Woodland, Tex. "I suffered four years and could find nothing to give even temporary relief. Our druggist at last induced me to try your 30 days' treatment of Pineules for $1. This one bottle has cured me and money could not buy the value it has been to me. Guaranteed. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated."

AMUSEMENTS

"The Gingerbread Man," one of the most successful of the many musical plays that have been presented for the last few seasons, will be the attraction at the Opera House tonight. The chorus numbers over fifty voices and is said to be the strongest from a vocal standpoint, now associated with any road attraction. Messrs. Nixon & Zimmerman with their usual liberality have equipped this company most lavishly both as to costume and scenic environments. Our theatres should not run away with the idea that "The Gingerbread Man" is a child's play, as it interests the more matured patron of the playhouse perhaps more than the younger ones. It is full of good music, rendered by competent singers and excellent comedy acted by competent comedians.

Seats now on sale at the Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated. Prices:—Lower floor, $1.50; last three rows, $1.00; balcony, 50c and 75c.

FALSE ALARM

Called Out Fire Department Saturday Morning.

At 10 o'clock Saturday morning the fire department was called out Virginia street, and though the firemen made one of the most prompt replies and quickest runs for a long time, a large crowd had preceded them. The department learned on arriving at one of the small houses at the rear of Mrs. Emma Thomas' residence, No. 1204, that there was no occasion for their services. It was only another chimney burning out and some nervous person had turned in the alarm. The firemen did not mind making the run, but how it did hurt them to see their new hose and hook and ladder wagon, looking as bright and pretty as one of the latest and much discussed gold coins, covered all over with mud. It was too bad.

TO THE FARMER-BOY.

His Chances Are Best in His Home Town Rather Than in the Big City.

My boy, the farm is all right. Sometimes you may feel that its environs are too narrow for you, its life too much of a humdrum, and that you would prefer to be one of the residents of the big city or town. There have been hundreds and thousands of others just like you, and with just such ideas. They have started from the farm buoyant with hope, and after years have regretted their youthful resolutions. Others have succeeded; have won laurels in the professional field, in business, in statesmanship; but the few who have succeeded thus are so small in number compared to the army of failures that there is little encouragement for the careful thinker to leave that which promises security from want and independence for a life time. The farmer is surely the most independent of all workers. He is sure to receive a greater reward for his labors, in his own making, and if he will strive diligently can aspire to a place in the public estimate that few can attain in the large towns.

Of course there are times when you think there is almost an unbearable dullness about existence on the farm. Were you a resident of the city, there would be times when you would long for the quietness and the pleasure that the farm affords. Hours of work may be long riding the plow, or harvesting the grain, but for superior to the work than that the great majority of the city youths are compelled to follow, and how much greater the compensation? How would you like to stand behind the dry goods or grocery counter from morning to night for the small wages that the city clerk receives? Year after year the laborer lives in cheap boarding houses and rarely save sufficient to engage in business. His is a mere subsistence, and a constant struggle. The best years of life are wasted in making money for others, while the industrious farmer is working for himself, saving money year after year, and when the time for rest comes it enables him to take it.

Cities are overcrowded with clerk help. An advertisement inserted in any daily paper for a clerk to fill any position will bring hundreds of responses. The array of unemployed and those seeking to better their conditions is always large. Of late years a large element of workers from cities are looking toward the farms for employment. They realize that the farm offers more permanency of occupation and greater independence than the efforts in the city can possibly afford. Before you concentrate your attention on employment in city or town, weigh every matter well, and then act according to what reason dictates. You will be very likely to conclude that the farm is a good enough place for you, and that your own little efforts in the city can possibly be the over-crowded city. Remember that your greatest interests center in what you call your "home town." Do all you can to assist its improvement, and make it a better business place.

D. M. CARR.

OPPOSED TO LOCAL PROGRESS.

Journals That Help to Concentrate Business in Large Cities.

There are thousands of so-called agricultural papers published in the United States, all of more or less merit. Yet few are all that they should be. There is an inconsistency about them that invites careful study. While they are supposed to represent the best interests of the great class of workers whom they gain support from in the way of subscriptions, the majority of them apparently work against the progress of farming communities by becoming the mediums, a part of the machinery, which draws from country towns the support which they should have.

It is to be regretted that many of these so-called agricultural papers are merely published for the purpose of circulating the advertisements of concerns which seek to secure trade from residents of farming districts to the detriment of the home towns. These establishments take money from the rural communities to the large financial centers. The thoughtful man or woman can see how injurious it is to the interests of the farmers to take away the surplus earnings which represent the wealth of the community. It requires but little observation and study to understand that to a great extent farm values are dependent upon the importance of the nearby town, and that any system that takes away its business, will result in a decrease of farm values. Such papers as advise the farmers to patronize other than home institutions and which advocate systems that are opposed to the up-building of industries in agricultural districts are not worthy of support.

Education.

Intelligence is the distinguishing mark between the savage and civilized man. Education is one of the greatest of God's blessings, and ignorance a curse. In America there exists no valid reason why every man, woman and child of normal brain should not have an education. There is no phase of life where knowledge is not necessary. In the most progressive communities is where the superior schools are found. Help along your town and help along education in general. By affording your children a chance for a good education, you offer them riches that cannot be destroyed; it is ready cash in hand, assets that one cannot be robbed of by any act of Providence.

WEALTH CONCENTRATION EVIL.

An evil that at present is receiving more than ordinary attention in the press is the concentration of vast amounts of money in the hands of corporations. The accumulation of wealth by individuals when controlled by natural law, will eventually become divided. The millionaire who has a family, at his death will apportion to each member a share of his wealth. Even though these divisions may be increased by work and by speculation and investment by the children, they in return will divide the accumulations among their offspring and eventually it matters not how great the fortunes of any one of the family may become, it is only a matter of time until there is a scattering of the money, and a great portion of it will pass from the members of the family. On the other hand, corporation methods mean the building of a system that prevents the operation of the natural law. In other words corporations are machines that work continuously, and when one part is broken it is replaced by a new one. Thus the accumulation goes on. The death of Rockefeller will not result in a discontinuance of the Standard Oil company; the death of one of the present stockholders of any of the large trust companies, banks or insurance companies will make little difference in their existence. All will go ahead. The safeguards of corporations in many cases are excellent. But the inclination to control trade by the crushing out of smaller concerns and the destruction of legitimate competition and the controlling of prices, seems against public policy. All classes are compelled to pay prices dictated by the trusts for the goods produced. Each year finds new combinations to control trade. It is the centralization of capital that makes such operations possible. The person who assists in concentrating money in large financial centers does his part toward helping along such combines. It is only by individual action on the part of every small producer and laborer in the country that conditions can be changed. Stand by every home industry and do your part toward keeping money in circulation at home, and thus bring about conditions that will make the operations of trusts and combinations impossible.

SCIENCE OF TOWN KILLING.

Unwise Booming and Maintaining Exorbitant Prices An Effective Way.

There is a county seat town in one of the central western states that has a population of about 3,000. It is surrounded by one of the richest farming countries. For years this town has been at a standstill. If anything it is retrograding, and even farm values near it are lowering, while poorer land some miles away is advancing.

Why should such a condition exist? The answer is plain. A dozen years ago there was a boom. With the boom real estate went to the top notch. Keeping pace with the boom the prices of products in that town went up. There was a collapse in real estate values, but the merchants remained. They kept up the high-price habit. That is they wanted more from an equitable share of profit. Another town was started 20 miles away. Some of the farmers went there. It was found that the merchants were selling goods at a lower price. The stock-buyer and the grain-buyer paid a few cents a hundred more for their purchases. The habit of trading at the new town grew. The business men of the old town couldn't learn a lesson. Before they knew it their customers were leaving them. So trading has been since then. The merchants have been plodding along. The money that should be retained in the town went elsewhere. Much of it went to build up the competing town.

Mistakes like this one are made frequently. Towns become dead places instead of live ones. In fact, some towns are dead that the farmers who withdrew their trade from them are suffering in decreased farm values. They take no interest in these places, other than to visit them now and then. Unhealthy booms, unhealthy prices made by the merchants, and which are foolishly maintained, are quite certain to kill a town even though it may be a county seat and have some advantages nearby towns may not have.

Support Home Newspapers.

The county newspaper is a power in the land. Its place can never be filled by the big daily papers or the bulky magazines or agricultural journals. It fills a place entirely its own. It is the barometer of the place in which it is published. Its news pages represent the life of the people, and its advertising pages should reflect the business activity of the town. It is the duty of every good citizen to give his support to the local press. Particularly the business men should patronize it with a view of bettering his trade. It is not money wasted to use advertising space in it. One good merchant in the town who understands how to advertise rightly, can bring trade to the town that will help every other business man in it. But all should do their part, and the storekeeper who does not give his home paper the support it merits is not the wisest kind of a business man.

Make Good Packing Paper.

Old newspapers make excellent packing paper, in which to put things in storage, as printing ink is disliked by insects.

Flying Ship in 1703.

In the Evening Post, a London newspaper published in the reign of Queen Anne, bearing date the 20-23 December, 1703, there is a curious description of a flying ship, stated to have been invented by Bartolomeo Lorenzo, a Brazilian priest. The paper has an engraving of the ship, and a long description. The inventor claimed that he could travel 200 miles in 24 hours.

NEGROES TO LEAVE.

"Rough Riders" Send Communication to Paper.

Madisonville, Ky., Jan. 18.—J. E. Russell, editor of the Dawson Springs Oracle, has been receiving notices signed "Rough Riders," with the request that they be published, regarding negroes in that thriving little Hopkins county town. This week he received the following communication:

"Publish this in your paper. For all the negroes in Dawson to get out in ten days, or woe unto them and for all that has got them employed to get rid of them, and all that has got them in their houses to get them out, or woe to their backs. This is the second warning.

ROUGH RIDERS.

HEALTH MATTERS.

Chief Topic of Discussion at Council Meeting.

The city council met in regular session Friday night but the business transacted was principally deferred matters.

The bonds of the chief of police and city assessor were presented and approved. The mayor also reported that he had approved the bonds of the seven police officers and the keeper of the workhouse.

Dr. R. L. Woodward's re-election as secretary of the Board of Health was reported and made a matter of record. Dr. Woodward submitted a verbal report of his recent attendance upon the meeting of the health officers in Louisville, in which 81 counties were represented. He made some recommendations that will receive the consideration of the council.

The workhouse committee was instructed to complete the plumbing in the workhouse and make all necessary repairs in the city buildings, and put them in good condition.

Application was made for a license to open a colored pool room in an up-stairs room on Sixth street. The matter was referred to the grievance committee to be looked into and reported on at the next meeting.

The Finance committee was granted further time to examine the annual reports of officers.

Adj. Gen. Johnston Suggests Practice in Counties Where Troops Are Needed.

Adjutant General Johnston yesterday morning dispatched Major E. B. Bassett back to Hopkinsville to take charge of the Hopkinsville militia men who will be on duty in that city again, having relieved the Louisville troops. Both the Governor and Gen. Johnston have great confidence in Major Bassett and wished to have him at the scene of tobacco trouble last month. Major Bassett has been engaged in work on the Board of Survey here for several weeks assisting in making a complete examination of the Adjutant General's department. His place on the board was filled by Major G. W. Albrecht, of Middlesboro, who will come here at once.

Adjutant General Johnston is calling the attention of the county officials in those counties where danger is feared because of the tobacco situation, to the State "Patrol Law," which has hitherto been unnoticed, but which he believes will have the effect of relieving the tenseness in many places where troops are desired, but where the department hardly sees the actual necessity for sending them. To the officials of such counties he is sending copies of the Patrol Law, which reads as follows:

Section 3790: County courts may, once in each year, divide their respective counties into as many districts as the public peace and good of society may require, and appoint in each district a company of patrols to consist of one captain and not exceeding three men, to continue in service twelve months, unless removed by the county court for neglect of duty or improper conduct. None but discreet and sober men shall be appointed patrols; and they shall take an oath before a justice of the peace faithfully, impartially and diligently to perform the duties of patrols. But the patrols shall have jurisdiction co-extensive with the whole county.—State Journal.

NO EQUITY MONEY

Springfield, Ky., Jan. 20.—The directors of the Washington County Warehouse Company and the board of control for the county held a joint meeting here Saturday afternoon and have given out the statement that the two boards are unable to finance the deal for the 1907 crop. They announce that tobacco will be received at any time at the warehouse, but no money will be advanced to the farmers.

Quite a number of prominent farmers who have pooled their tobacco have prized and shipped to Louisville. The indications are that the pooled tobacco will be shipped to Louisville and Lebanon, where the American Tobacco Company has a warehouse and agent.

A petition has been circulated by the business men of Springfield inviting and requesting Mr. Moss, the agent of the American Tobacco Co., to come back to Springfield and buy the tobacco. Mr. Moss moved from here about two months ago. The citizens are satisfied that there will not be any trouble should Mr. Moss come to Springfield and buy the 1907 crop. At a mass meeting held out in the country today it was decided not to raise any tobacco during the year 1908.

No need to fear coughs and colds this year as you can obtain Bees Laxative Cough Syrup now from your dealer. This is good news to mothers who fear croup and whooping cough. It is a gentle laxative that expels the poison from the system in the natural way. Cuts the phlegm and clears the head. Guaranteed. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co.,
